

Amanda is a tax principal responsible for tax compliance services to businesses and individuals with a concentration in multistate and international taxation. She places emphasis on special projects relating to off-shore voluntary disclosures, controlled foreign corporations, and passive foreign investment companies. After an internship with Lumsden McCormick in 2011, Amanda joined the staff full time in 2012.

EDUCATION

Daemen University, Master of Science, Professional Accountancy
Daemen University, Bachelor of Science, Professional Accountancy

PROFESSIONAL

American Institute of Certified Public Accountants
New York State Society of Certified Public Accountants
Transformational Leadership Program™ 2024, Convergence Coaching®

COMMUNITY

Amherst Youth Foundation, Vice President, Board of Directors

Central to our pursuit of innovation is our dedicated Innovation Committee, a collaborative force representing every division within our firm, including administration. This dynamic group is driven by a singular mission: to enhance operational processes that impact our clients. By fostering an environment where ideas can be shared and diverse perspectives come together, we make a commitment to confidently adapt and implement change.